Mancini was shot through the right arm and side, and in the hip, and as he was with him in the gutter at the side of the street, Luntz rushed up, grabbed Mancini by the hair and held his head while he fired a bullet through his neck. Mancini was rushed to the Mt. Pleasant hospital and in spite of his terrible wounds made a very quick recovery. Mancini was practically killed once before, by being slashed up horribly with a knife by a fellow Italian. Mancini is a naturalized citizen and a quiet and inoffensive townsman who has built up a large shoe repairing business. His assailant escaped.

The Big Exhibition.

Physical Director Jesse H. Adams of the Scottdale Y. M. C. A. has announced that everything is in readiness for the gymnasium exhibition at the Gayle opera house tomorrow evening, commencing at 8 15. Seats are now on sale at Bickell's music store, and a very large number have already been sold. In several instances, a whole lot of seats have been sold to one person, which is plain evidence that interest in the coming exhibition is in no manner lacking. H. W. Kuhn, of C. L. Kuhn & Sons' jewelry store, disposed of 20 tickets long before the seat sale had opened, and almost a score of other members have each sold from 15 to 25 tickets. The announced that all is ready is evidenced by the bustling, widespread Physical Director is well prepared to present a treat to the admirers of athletic training. Many parents will also be surprised at the ability of their sons and also be shown where a physical education is as necessary as a mental education. Business men in the town have taken a great interest in the coming exhibition and they too, are lending a helping hand. Assistant Postmaster, H. A. Bricker will make the introductory remarks, tomorrow evening and will be followed by an Italian club exercise by the Junior leader corps after which will come the much requested shadowgraph which took the audience at its first annual exhibition last year by storm. Albert and Lloyd Robbins will introduce the art of self defense. Ever close on the vaulting horse by the Junior class will be shown followed by advanced work on the vaulting horse by the Young Men's and Intermediate classes. The presentation of medals won by three members of each class during the winter contests, all to be made by Dr. A. Walke, after which will be a wrestling bout by Albert and Lloyd Robbins, using a catchcatch can rules. Tumbling by the Young Men's class will come next, then will come the much talked of troupe pyramids by the young men and in intermediate classes followed by exercises on the parallel bars, and then competitive diving. The troupe will work executed by J. H. Adams, R. W. Kuhn and M. H. Gibson will come next. This will be the most interesting attraction of the evening. Several months were required to bring this up to the standard of perfection and for success a lot of constant display and even a display of many professional. The troupe will be the one of the finest of the troupe in athletic performance, and will exhibit it in its form. The most difficult art of self defense, tening, will wind up the evening's entertainment in which will be shown advancing, retreating, lunges, parries and jumping.

Newly arranged programs, showing the Junior class at "fun" in the gymnasium, have been distributed everywhere and arrangements have been made to handle the large crowd. Many orders for tickets have come from Connelville showing that the interest is not confined to Scottdale only.

In Butlin's home a blood stained ax handle was found. His head had been crushed in with it. Mrs. Leary had also been struck on the head. Neither regained consciousness, and the police were unable to obtain any clue from them. The police are puzzled by the mystery in each case. Robbery was apparently not the object for nothing was missed from the house of either.

HOME WEEK FOR MT. PLEASANT.

A Big Celebration to Be Held There Next July.

MERCHANTS WILL BOOM IT

An Aeroplane Flight Will Be Chief of a Mile of Attractions—Funeral of Patrick Maguire Took Place This Morning.

Special to The Courier. MT. PLEASANT, April 6.—Two scores of merchants assembled in the bank hall last evening when they decided that a "Home Week" will be held in Mt. Pleasant the week commencing July 1th. It was formerly decided that a Fourth of July celebration was to be held but many merchants thought that a solid week of enjoyment would be much better for the town, both financially and socially.

The meeting was called to order by President Thomas Tighe and with S. C. Stevens acting as Secretary, the entire meeting was filled with short talks and suggestions by the merchants present and many of these little extemporaneous addresses were to the point, and expressed exactly what steps should be taken for such a celebration.

In the first place money enough will be raised for such a celebration, and probably $1,500 will be sufficient to carry out the plans. The President appointed a committee of two merchants in each ward to take subscriptions. The following were appointed: First Ward, John L. Shields, Chairman, J. B. Goldenhilt, Second Ward, Charles Pross, W. A. Pyne, Third Ward, Burgess A. Collins and P. E. Painter. The committee have the town mapped out into sections and all the territory will be covered this week. Up to press time nearly $500 had been subscribed, and it seems practically no question at all that sufficient money can be raised to give the celebration.

What must be looked after at the next meeting will be the securing of proper attractions for the week. The main feature will be an aeroplane flight. Such a feature has not been given in Western Pennsylvania at any similar celebration, and this alone will be instrumental in bringing thousands of people to town, for who would not walk or ride many miles to see a man fly.

The arrangements up to the present time is to have the Main street of town, which is one mile long, covered with attractions. On each prominent corner have a feature attraction, and the Main feature being the aeroplane flight, for which attraction alone will be paid $1,000.

Every citizen in town is now talking of the Home Week and it is sure to be a great success. Old citizens say that Mt. Pleasant doesn't have a celebration very often, but when it does have on it is a "bummer" and if the proper support is given it, Home Week here will be one grand week of enjoyment, business and of reunion.

WILKESBURG PUT THEM INTO FORCE

Wilkensburg Board of Health has framed rules for the guidance of the barbers, and they are certainly up to the minute. They provide that every barber must be examined by a physician before he can engage in a shop, the most work, his hands in hot water before attacking each successive patron, must have his finger nails clean and short, clothing must be neat and unsoiled, towels newly laundered and a fresh one must be used for each customer; razors must be dipped in hot water before using and brushes and combs and scissors must be cleaned after each using. These rules went into effect Monday.

We did so and she was soon restored to health and strength."

The Scrap Book

A Horrible Death.

A gentle Chicago drummer on a visit to Louisville ran into a Louisville Times man. The usually cheerful countenance of the drummer was so overcast as to prompt inquiry as to the cause of his morose mood. "Just heard of the death of Joe Hinkle," was the lugubrious reply. "Friend of yours maybe?"

"None, just a drummer in Chicago."

"Owe you anything?"

"None."

"Well, then, what are you so cut up about?"

"Oh, he died such a horrible death. It was simply awful. I never heard of anything like it."

"How was that?"

"Well, he was at work on the roof of the Masonic temple, and—"

"—he got too close to the edge and—"

"—slipped off."

"Thinking of that sheer drop of twenty-one stories, the man around town repressed a violent shudder with both hands."

"Oh, but that had to shoot him wasn't the worst of it," the drummer continued, his sympathetic face working overtime, while great tears stood in his eyes. "The poor poor du du devil had on his rub-rub ber-boo boots!"

"Yes," sympathetically.

"And he had bounced up and down for three full days and nights, and they had to shoot him to keep him from starving to death!"

My Prayer.

Great God, I ask thee for no meager gift. That I may not disappoint my friends. That in my action I may soar as high as I can now discern with this clear eye. And next in value which thy kindness lends. That I may greatly disappoint my friends. That they may think or hope that I may. They may not dream how thou art distinguished.

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Corry, Pa.—"I am happy to write you about the benefit I received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my marriage two years ago, I suffered something awful every month with pains and other distressing symptoms, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. Since then I have never been troubled with pain, not even a dull backache or headache, and it has helped me a good deal before childbirth. I recommend your medicine wherever I go."—Mrs. E. L. Ross, 112 E. Church St., Corry, Pa.

When a woman like Mrs. Ross is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ONE BRIBE GIVER CONFESSES

Startling Revelations Promised With Lifting of Lid in Connellsville Case—Former Bank Examiner Fields in Pittsburgh to Give Evidence.

Pittsburgh, April 6.—Plot and plotters are expected to be revealed today, when the lid of the Connellsville graft investigation is scheduled to be blown off. A presentation from the grand jury is expected some time today and information is to be made against men prominent in the financial world on charges of giving bribes to secure institutions as city depositaries in 1908.

District Attorney William A. Blakeley is ready to move against the men alleged to have furnished the money, and developments, it is said, will be the most sensational of the entire investigation.

Mr. Blakeley held a long conference with William L. Folds, former national bank examiner for this district, now connected with a Philadelphia bank, and it is said that Mr. Folds will go before the grand jury. The latter has been brought here to all he knows about the city depositaries, which he examined when on duty for the government here.

Charles W. Friend, a son of James W. Friend, deceased, pleaded not guilty before Judge Robert S. Frazee to paying former Connellsville Charles Stewart a $500 bribe. The money was for influence to secure the passage of an ordinance allowing the Clinton Iron and Steel company to construct a bridge across West Carson street. Friend is a director of one of the banks involved in the present Connellsville investigation. The court made no disposition of the case.

Laying bare all the secrets of which he alone was the possessor and which concerned the men, said to be pillars of finance in the community, who actually furnished a portion of the money by which votes of Pittsburgh councilmen were bartered and bargained for, Morris Blumenthal, selectman from the Twenty-fifth ward, made a full and free confession.

Blumenthal is the man whom the grand jury in a recent presentation officially charged with having received $20,000 from the Workingman's Savings Bank and Trust company of Allegheny for distribution among the city councilmen. The bill also charges that articles that have been in cold storage for more than a year shall be deemed to have been adulterated with the meaning of the food and drugs act.

Following his statement to Mr. Blakeley Blumenthal went before the grand jury and there retold the story of how the bribe givers furnished the money with which the votes were bought.

Then to make his surrender more complete he wrote his resignation as a member of council and handed it to the court then and there.

HIGHER WAGES DEMANDED

Employees on Roads Entering Cincinnati Want More Coin.

Cincinnati, April 6.—Demands for higher wages and changes in working conditions have been made on nearly all of the important roads entering Cincinnati. Committees representing the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen conferred with managers of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton roads and presented demands for increased wages and changed working conditions.

Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern road presented demands for an increase in wages and changes in working conditions. A committee representing 300 switchmen in the Cincinnati district also presented demands for increased wages. Further conference will follow.

REAL SIGNS OF PROSPERITY

New York, April 6.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the American Sugar Refining company it was decided to increase the wages of all the factory employees in the company in the following amounts: Boston, 25¢; Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New Orleans, 30¢; Secretary of the company would not state the figure of the additional cost which the increase will cause the company.

Boston, April 6.—Every employee of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn railroad received an announcement of an increase of 5 per cent in his wages. The raise was voluntary and is the third advance since 1903, making the present scale of wages about 20 per cent higher than seven years ago.

Marine League Officer.

Washington, April 6.—A sensational turn was given the house inquiry into the ship subsidy scandal when John A. Panton, secretary of the Merchant Marine League, was arrested on an indictment for criminal libel on charges preferred by Representative Stearns, son of Minnesota, author of the resolution under which the Gless special committee is investigating allegations that two judges are at work, one to further subsidy legislation and the other to put obstacles in its way. Mr. Panton was taken into custody by two local detectives. He was conducted to the office of the United States attorney, where he gave bail in the sum of $500.

Mr. Panton is charged with criminal libel in connection with certain editorials appearing in the December issue of the American Flag, the official organ of the Merchant Marine League. The indictment recites that Mr. Panton impugned the integrity of Representative Stearns, who is an opponent of subsidy legislation.

Senator Lodge has prepared a bill, which it is understood, will be recommended to congress by the select committee investigating high prices of commodities, which will require the labeling of all foodstuffs placed in cold storage to show the date when placed in storage. The bill also enacts that articles that have been in cold storage for more than a year shall be deemed to have been adulterated with the meaning of the food and drugs act.

ELECTION RIOTS.

Local Option Adherents Create Trouble in Danville, Ill.

Danville, Ill., April 6.—Six men were wounded at the polls in this city. Speaker Cannon's home, during the local option election and for a time matters were of such a threatening nature that, believing there would be certain bloodshed between the wet and dry factions, Evangelist Billy Sunday, who had been holding a series of revivals here, wired Governor Deneen, his close friend, requesting him to order out the local company of militia.

This request was later countermanded, but not until County Judge Allen, after a conference with the clergy, also wired for assistance. The wet carried the city.

The rioting centered around Grape Creek precinct. When Judge Clark armed with credentials as a prohibition challenger, attempted to enter the polling place he was knocked down by Oscar Cravens, agent for the Terre Haute Brewing company, and thrown outside the lines. Cravens was arrested.

Hearing of the battle, Sheriff Holmick swore in fifty deputies and leading them into automobiles hurried them to the scene. Before the deputies arrived another riot started when Neph Shields attempted to photograph a voter entering the polls. Shields' clothing was torn from his body. His camera was smashed.

MANAGER AND CASHIER SLAIN

Two Injured in Attempting to Stop
Robbers, Who Secure $500 and Escape—Police and Detectives Scouring Country For Men.

Pittsburgh, April 6.—George and Nicol avenues, Schoenville, known as "Bloody Angle" during the big steel car strike, was the scene of another fatal battle last night when four highwaymen entered the Victor bank, killed the general manager, fatally wounded the cashier, who died soon after; seriously wounded a bystander, shot another man and escaped with $500.

Samuel Freedman, twenty-five years old, general manager of bank; shot through breast, shoulder, right eye and leg; died instantly.

Ignatz Schwartz, twenty-six years old, cashier; shot twice through head; taken to hospital, where he died.

The injured: Robert King, shot through groin; Thomas Neary, side grazed by bullet.

Four men entered the bank while Freedman and Schwartz were at work. Schwartz was standing in the front of the room behind the cashier's window, while Freedman was in the back of the place near the vault.

Without a word one of the highwaymen drew a revolver and shot Schwartz twice through the head. The man then reached under the screen and took all the money on the counter, the amount being estimated at about $500.

Freedman, at the first shot, procured his revolver and rushed to the front of the bank after the robbers. They saw him coming and ran from the place, the manager in hot pursuit. When Freedman reached the street one of the bandits turned about and shot the banker through the breast.

He fell on the car tracks in George avenue, but the highwaymen, not being satisfied with his work, fired three more shots at the fallen man, all the bullets taking effect.

When the first shot was fired at Schwartz a crowd of men who were sitting in front of Groves hotel in George avenue, a block below the bank, jumped to their feet and started in the direction of the firing. King was talking to a couple of friends when Freedman rushed from the bank and saw the man turn and shoot the cashier.

King then ran up the street to the assistance of the banker. He had gone but a short distance when the burglar turned and fired at him; the bullet passing through King's groin. Neary, who was with King, also started to help Freedman and the robber shot at him, the bullet passing through his clothes and grazing his left breast.

The four highwaymen then separated, two going through the yards of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, which runs alongside of the car line in front of the bank, while the others ran down Nichol avenue toward the foreign section of Schoenville.

City and county detectives were immediately rushed to the scene and were given good descriptions of the men by eye witnesses to the holdup and murders. The highwaymen were described as of small size, appearing to be no more than boys, and are said to have worn black shirts. The authorities say they are "yeggmen."

Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 6.—Fred Lamphrey, thirty-five years old, was shot to death by a bullet at his home in Sparta township. Lamphrey's mother, who is eighty years old, was unable to help her son.

HALLEY'S COMET

by Frederic Campbell, Sc.D.
PRESIDENT of the DEPARTMENT of ASTRONOMY, BROOKLYN INSTITUTE.

Copyright, 1910, by Frederic Campbell

In the little village of Marston, N. Y., lives a retired astronomer, Dr. Lewis Swift. Before he had reached the distinction of being the director of two astronomical laboratories and had obtained undying fame as the discoverer of comets, he was born on February 29, 1820, and is thus 90 years of age. When he was but a lad he discovered Halley's comet on its return to our sky. No one has seen this monster of the heavens for 75 years, but had his sight not nearly failed, Dr. Swift would see it again.

Very few are now living who recall seeing Halley's comet in 1835. The writer has talked with only three no inconsiderable object, one, in fact, to be avoided. Its tail is usually a much more conspicuous though much less substantial affair.

In the year B. C. 43 a marvelous comet appeared, whose brilliancy was so great that it was seen even in the daytime. This was one year after Caesar's death, and the popular belief was that it was his metamorphosed body. The same comet has been seen three times since, its period being 75 years. In A. D. 1531 Halley's comet was paying one of its periodical visits, eye witnesses described it as presenting a tail which might be seen across one-third of the heavens. This would mean a length of 60 degrees, equal to a line system. But so immense is the universe that Halley's comet makes no approach to the regions of the fixed stars. If it did, its period would be lengthened from 75 years to 20,000,000. Still, at its furthest from the sun, the cold would possibly even liquefy air, while at its nearest the sun's heat must be sufficient to destroy all terrestrial forms of life. It is only incidentally that, in making its dash for the sun, the comet comes within not less than 12,000,000 miles of the earth, and its nearest possible approach would be at a point 6,000,000 miles distant, more than 25 times the distance of the moon.

Large comets are as bright as Venus, the brightest star, and their Halley's comet seems a frequent visitor when compared with such long absent members of the solar family. For it must be remembered that all periodical comets, returning at regular intervals, just as truly belong to the solar system as Jupiter, Venus, the Moon or the earth. For it is the sun's attraction which dominates them all, no matter how far they may wander and how long they may disappear. All the planets, too, are traveling ellipses, and each of them is at one time much nearer the sun and traveling much more swiftly than at another. The paths of periodical comets, however, do not approach perfect circles, but are very greatly compressed and consequently immensely elongated, hence with the sun near one end of their orbits, and the earth near the sun, they periodically visit both sun and earth.

ROAD-MAKING BEGUN.

State Will Improve 80 Miles of Highways During Season.

HARRISBURG, April 6.—The State of Pennsylvania will add between 70 and 80 miles of improved highways this year to the roads built under the supervision of the State Highway Department. The unusual early season has enabled contractors to begin operations in over 20 counties and every effort is being made to push construction as rapidly as possible.

The State has built 628 miles of road since the creation of the Highway Department, the bulk of the work having been done in the last two years. Lately steps have been taken to connect isolated links of road and several stretches of 10 or 12 miles will soon be ready for traffic. More attention is now being given to the use of brick on roads.

The State has 966 miles of road under contract and about $675,000 to spend on construction this year. The average cost per mile is between $8,500 and $9,000.

Every time the church bells are heard at noon we are reminded of that occasion, for it was then that they first rang to call to prayer against the great visitant. It is that comet which a few weeks ago our unaided eyes detected first as a faint and slowly moving haze, then as an object gradually increasing in brilliancy, and size, until it may reach or even exceed the marvellous attainments of 1835.

nebulous heads, sometimes appear as large as the moon. Their steady approach to the sun, which attracts them within our sky, usually develops in tail, which streams back into space, following the head when approaching the sun, preceding it when retreating.

The most celebrated comet of the Nineteenth Century was Donati's, which attained its greatest brilliancy in October, 1858. At night men looked from the front of their dwellings and saw the comet's head near the horizon; then they looked from the rear, and behold, its splendid tail stretched into the opposite part of the sky. Donati's comet returns once in about two millenniums, and may be looked for again about the year 3355.
